

AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE AROUSED, SAYS LONDON AT TOPEKA

Declares They Will Vote For Good Government In November

BUSY CLEARING DESK

Governor Highly Delighted With His Reception On Recent Trip

By William K. Hutchinson
(Copyright, 1936, by I. N. S.)

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 28.—The American people are aroused to the issues of the presidential campaign, and will vote for good government in November, Governor Alfred M. Landon, declared here today, as he rested after his first campaign trip into the industrial East.

The Republican nominee will remain here, clearing his gubernatorial desk in the state house, until he leaves for Des Moines next week to confer with President Roosevelt on the drought situation. Landon will make certain recommendations to the presidential conference for relieving the drought, but their details will not be made public until after he speaks to Mr. Roosevelt.

Landon was highly delighted with his reception from crowds in the nine states on the 2,900 mile journey from his vacation retreat in the Colorado Rockies to his birthplace at West Middlesex, Pa., and back to Topeka.

He particularly expressed gratitude at the interest taken by women and young people in scores of cities and towns where he made brief talks from his train.

"I returned to Topeka deeply gratified with my first trip of the 1936 campaign," said Landon. "Travelling for eight days between the Rocky Mountains and Lake Erie I have appreciated the friendly welcome of those whom I have had the opportunity of meeting, whether it be from the rear platform of the train, aboard the train, or at West Middlesex, Pa., Chautauqua and Buffalo.

"It has been interesting to find that the people of all of the nine states visited are striving to solve in an honest and common-sense way, their common problems. Our neighbors of Colorado and Nebraska are much the same in thought and aspirations, as the people of Pennsylvania and New York, and all are no different from the folks of Kansas.

"Everywhere, despite differences in geography, the people are undoubtedly interested in good government. The crowds that have gathered are proof of this interest.

"This is as it should be. It is the American way, for under the American system the people are the government."

The Governor was particularly pleased with his reception in the neighboring State of Missouri last night.

DECLARES MAIN PLANS OF NEW DEAL MEAN RUIN

Knox Accuses Roosevelt of "Shadow Boxing" in Attack On "Economic Royalists"

PLANS ARE "BUNK"

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Aug. 28.—Charging that President Roosevelt is "shadow boxing," Col. Frank Knox, Republican Vice-Presidential candidate, made reply to President Roosevelt's acceptance speech in Philadelphia, following the Democratic convention.

Knox devoted a speech prepared for delivery at the Rockingham County Republican Club's annual outing, on the ocean beach here.

Asking "Who are these economic royalists?" Knox called them "imaginary," and said that the President, in the acceptance address, "walloped a straw man" while ignoring "money, credit, budgets, agriculture, industry, trade, labor, relief and recovery."

"With 18 million people on relief," Knox said, "he offers to go out and slaughter a big bad wolf, if he can only find the wolf."

Knox asserted that the Administration's major policies are "in ruins" and its future plans "an absolute blank."

"That is why I have emphasized this business of economic royalists," he said.

"When the responsible head of our Government offers, as the remedy for grave national ills, to go out and save the people from non-existent and unidentified figments of the economic imagination, the planlessness and the inadequacy of our Government are exposed.

"When we have that sort of shadow-boxing with serious problems, it is about time to try a new performer." G. P. R. Chadwick, president of the Rockingham club, estimated the crowd at 10,000. In introducing Colonel Knox, Chadwick termed his club the first organization to endorse the Chicago publisher for the Presidential nomination last August.

Applause greeted Knox's statement "the voters are disgusted with the motley crew of experimenters in the Administration," and he drew laughs with the declaration "the Administration leaps, and the Supreme Court looks." Knox, commenting on the President's phrase about the rise of an industrial "new despotism," asserted New Deal legislation better merited the charges made against the "royalists." Lines from the President's speech which drew his fire were these:

"Through new uses of the corporation the structure of modern life was impressed into the royal service. They created a new despotism and wrapped in the robes of legal sanction. In its service new mercenaries sought to regiment the people, their labor and their property. . . . Throughout the Nation opportunity was limited by monopoly. . . . Individual initiative was crushed in the cogs of a great machine."

In return Knox charged the New Deal had "shackled industry," put

THE SPOILSMEN REPENT

By Hon. Robert L. Bacon of New York

Since the Republican National Convention adopted a strong and unequivocal pledge to restore and sustain the merit system in government service, we hear much chatter from the New Deal about Civil Service.

After undermining the merit system by three long years of remorseless spoilsmanship, the Administration now has made a campaign gesture toward strengthening the Civil Service. During the last week of the Congressional Session, they called up in the House the Ramspeck Bill, ostensibly extending the classified Civil Service laws to postmasters in our 14,000 appointive post offices of the first, second and third classes. But the measure was promptly rejected in the House, even by the Democratic majority, because it could not command the serious attention of any informed supporter of the merit system.

It was pure political camouflage adroitly framed for campaign effect.

In a word, the Ramspeck Bill is not at all what it is represented to be. It is a spoilsmen's bill in Civil Service dress—a measure to confuse public opinion on a basic issue which the New Deal no longer could evade.

It would abolish the present four-year term for postmasters and make the appointment for a life term. But it provided that incumbent postmasters might be reappointed for the indefinite term without competitive examination or qualification tests of any sort.

In the final analysis, this was merely a device to keep the New Deal appointees in their offices perpetually.

Another section of the bill would authorize the Postmaster General to set aside Civil Service regulations at will if no qualified person in the classified ranks was deemed qualified for a vacancy.

This proposal embodied the most sweeping spoils power ever sought in any Administration.

Since March, 1933, the New Deal has added more than 250,000 persons to the full-time payroll of the Federal Government, without increasing the classified Civil Service enrollment.

No amount of legislative camouflage can obscure this sabotage of the merit system.

This crime against the public service can not now be covered by a hollow gesture of repentance.

Every major act of the Roosevelt Administration in creating a new administrative agency has been a dagger thrust at the heart of Civil Service.

REPORT SEEING DEER IN BENSLEM TOWNSHIP

Three Bound Over P. R. R. Tracks in the Vicinity of Eddington Station

PERSONAL NEWS ITEMS

BENSLEM TOWNSHIP, Aug. 28.—Three deer, believed to be a doe and her two fawn, were reported seen about 100 yards west of the Eddington P. R. R. station, Tuesday morning, about seven o'clock, by Joseph Cahill and Ralph Farenio.

The two men, both P. R. R. employees, were waiting for a train when the deer were seen to bound across the tracks, almost being struck by an approaching train.

From the account given the deer were traveling at a very rapid rate and taking long bounds. They were last seen disappearing across the fields towards the Delaware river.

Another report indicating their presence came from Daniel Marsiglia, who reported seeing a doe and her young one near the Badenhausen plant in Cornwells, several days ago. They were being chased by a dog at the time and then Marsiglia stated that the mother deer turned on the dog and chased it.

Several explanations have been offered for the presence of the deer in this section of the county. Some claim that they swam across the river from New Jersey. Others say that they escaped some time ago from a circus, while others contend that they have wandered down from the mountains further up in the State.

Miss Betty Schoenmaker, Cornwells Heights, is still confined to her bed with a nervous ailment, but she is expected to be up very shortly.

George R. Colville, Bridgewater, celebrated a birthday on Wednesday. William Cherry, Bridgewater, was stung by several yellow jackets when they became aroused after he had run a lawn mower over their nest.

Miss Betty Ruth Edwards, Langhorne, was a recent visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaPenta, Cornwells Heights.

Mrs. Clifford Allen, Eddington, has been confined to her home with illness during the past few days.

ANNOUNCE SOLICITORS FOR DOLLAR CAMPAIGN

Work Gets Under Way in Both Precincts of The First Ward

RESPONSE IS GENEROUS

With the perfecting of the organization to conduct the "Dollar Certificate Campaign" in Bristol, among the supporters of "Landon for President," the workers have gone about their work with vigor and enthusiasm. Each voting district is to be thoroughly canvassed and both men and women are invited to join the "Dollar Certificate Campaign." Thus far the solicitors report they are meeting with a hearty response and the sentiment of the voters appears to be much in favor of the movement, which is to aid in the election of Alf M. Landon, as President of the United States.

The question has been asked as to the purpose for which the money is to be used.

It is stated that the money raised through the "Dollar Certificate Campaign" is to be used toward the expenses of the campaign to elect Landon president.

Each person visited will be given an envelope by the solicitor and in this envelope the dollar contribution is deposited and mailed to the headquarters in Philadelphia.

Each solicitor carries a card of identification and in this way the public is safeguarded against unauthorized persons soliciting money.

In the first ward of Bristol Borough the following have volunteered to solicit in that district:

First Ward, First Precinct: Mrs. William K. Fine, Wood street; Miriam Scott, 220 Radcliffe street; Mrs. Lohr, 225 Cedar street; Mrs. William J. Lefters, 214 Mulberry street; Mrs. John Lynn, Mill street; Elizabeth Scott, 220 Radcliffe street; Cecilia Gilton, 318 Mill street.

First Ward, Second Precinct: Mrs. Vera Goslin, Radcliffe street; Margaret Fox, Radcliffe street; Mary K. McFadden, Mulberry and Wood streets; Helen Forster, 507 Radcliffe street; Jennie Esposito, 213 Franklin street; Mrs. Elizabeth S. Jarvis, 309 Radcliffe street; Mrs. Walter Smith, 625 Radcliffe street.

Priest Guards Church

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 28.—Blaming the Black Legion for a series of acts of vandalism, a Catholic priest, armed with a repeating shot-gun and a revolver, today stood guard over his church, threatening to "shoot to kill" intruders.

The priest, the Rev. Father Joseph Fillion, 48-year-old pastor of St. Joan of Arc's Church in suburban St. Clair Shores, took up the watch, he revealed, after the latest act of terrorism Tuesday night when his church was set on fire.

In recent months, he said, windows in the church have been broken, sacred hosts scattered over the floor of the sanctuary, his car put out of commission, and telephone lines cut three times.

Resume Attack

Hendaye, France, Aug. 28.—Undimmed by stiff resistance to Loyalist Spanish forces in their strongholds at Irun on the Bay of Biscay, Rebels once more resumed their desperate struggle to capture the city today.

Having failed for two days of bloody fighting on land and in the air to take the city, the insurgents opened up today's attack at dawn from the sea with a naval bombardment by a Rebel warship off Cape Figuer.

Announce Loyalist Successes

Madrid, Aug. 28.—Determined to redouble its efforts to crush the rebellion, the Spanish Loyalist government in a series of radio broadcasts today announced far-flung Loyalist successes against the insurgents.

The Rebels, it was announced, have been driven back in Leon Province, and an attack on a miners' column in the Asturias was repulsed with heavy Rebel losses.

A large number of Rebel civil guards and soldiers, fleeing from Oviedo, deserted the insurgents and went over to the government, it was claimed.

At the same time Madrid officials proclaimed the provinces of Toledo and Caceres "war zone."

The radio also announced that government warship "Jaine Primero" celebrated conclusion of its repairs by shelling the Rebel stronghold of Cadiz.

Patsy and His Dog

"Patsy" Moffo, a well known resident of the First Ward, and boxing matchmaker, has a terrible time keeping tabs on his pet dog, Fluffy. Fluffy is fond of Patsy and follows him whenever the opportunity presents. But once out on the streets Fluffy is not so particular about keeping at Patsy's heels and is known to venture off in other directions.

The other day "Patsy" and Fluffy went to the store. Fluffy deserted "Patsy" without his knowledge and when "Patsy" reached home he was surprised when informed that Fluffy was not at his heels.

"Patsy" went in search and had quite a trip in and out of the business places along Mill street, before he located Fluffy.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE COUNTY ASSOCIATION OF POLICE, OFFICIALS

Meeting To Be Held at Doylestown, On September 3rd

INCLUDES BURGESSES

Meeting Sponsored by District Attorney's Office and Chief of Police

A meeting for the purpose of taking the first steps in the organization of a county association of Burgesses, police, and constables to increase the efficiency of the police agencies in the county has been set for September 3rd, at Doylestown.

The meeting, which is sponsored by the District Attorney's office and Chief of Police James Welsh, of Doylestown, as is the organization, will have important speakers to talk on crime prevention. The association is expected to bring about better and more effective co-operation and to result in better training the police agencies of the county.

The invitation, which is signed by Assistant District Attorney Blister and Chief of Police Welsh, was sent to many interested persons. The invitation reads as follows:

"There has been a desire expressed for some time by various police officers of this county for the formation of a police and constable association. This need is felt more today than ever before, due to the rise in crime throughout the country. Now is the time to band together and combat this menace that is rapidly destroying the sanctity and safety of the American family.

"The District Attorney's office is thoroughly in accord with this movement and as a matter of fact is instrumental in its formation.

"The purpose of the organization would be to further the identification and apprehension of criminals through a central clearing house located in the County Seat.

"The organization is non-beneficial and would be conducted and controlled by the various police officers of the county with the aid and co-operation of Pennsylvania State Police, Pennsylvania Highway Patrol and the Department of Justice.

"All members of the organization would have access to files and information regarding fingerprints, criminal records, paroles, motor vehicle registration and other matters pertaining to criminal investigations and police activities.

"An organization meeting will be held at the Court House, Doylestown, September 3, at 7:30 p. m., d. s. t., at which time the Director of the State Bureau of Identification and one of the foremost authorities on fingerprinting in the United States, will outline the purposes and benefits of the organization."

HAND CLASPS

Nothing so eloquently reveals character as the hand-clasp. One may train his voice to express courage and a cordiality unpossessed; one may acquire a poker-face; one may feign pleasure at meeting and displeasure at parting; but the offered hand neither conceals nor deceives. A blind man, deaf and dumb from birth, can read this message of the hand.

Is it a strong hand that functions with the irresistible determination of a vise? If it is, it belongs to a he-man—a go-getter—or to a true friend. Its warm and sturdy clasp belongs to a frank countenance and a feeling heart.

Is it a hand that gives a quick, slight pressure and at once liberates itself? That sort belong to the busy man and is born of independence and individualism.

Is it a limp hand? Then it belongs to a limp man, to one who is too tired to be interested in persons and things. To him hand shaking is an unnecessary formality in which no energy should be wasted.

Is it a lingering hand which caresses rather than clasps and which refuses to liberate its prey until it has accomplished its purpose? This is the practiced hand-clasp of the politician, the swindler and the cheat. It belongs to the man with a "mission" or a "message."

SUCCESS

Achievement is not always success, while reputed failure often is. The most successful men are not necessarily the ones noisily attracting public attention. The best and most useful women are not the bright butterflies of fashion on the stage, whose press agents incessantly flaunt their pictures and their petty doings before the public.

The unlauded men and women who are quietly attending to their own little duties, every day contributing something substantial to general industry, prosperity and progress, rearing children in habits of useful work and right living and supplying examples that elevate the moral and intellectual level of their little communities—these are the men and women of real influence and power.

Success is theirs in the fullest measure.

How shrunken and pitiful a thing, how hollow a delusion, is the shining so-called success of self-absorbed men and women.

They have only the husks of life's golden grain.

Like that soldier under Galerius who found a shining leather bag filled with pearls and cast away the pearls but carefully preserved the bag, these self-absorbed ones are spurning the true riches, real success, to hug to their hearts things that are empty and worthless.

At the masthead of the Bracken Chronicle, published at Augusta, Ky., appears the perfect newspaper watchword, "Cussed by many, read by all."

A mixture of ground spinach and an acid is found an effective insecticide on Northwestern farms. The acid being used as a lure.

A mentalist, playing Western theaters, claims to "see all, hear all and tell all, without the use of a rural party line."

No self-made man ever left out the working parts.

Why drive anything less than a V-8?

When you spend your money for a car — get your money's worth. Get a car that has a V-type engine — the type of engine that powers the world's fastest automobile, the world's fastest speedboat, and the world's fastest plane. No car under $1600 has a V-8 engine — except the Ford V-8. . . . And over two and a half million Ford V-8's have already proved their economy and dependability on the road.

Once you sit behind the wheel of the Ford V-8 and feel its satin-smooth "pick-up" — you'll readily understand why thousands of former expensive car owners are now owners of Ford V-8's.

We'll gladly let you make a convincing trial. Call us for a demonstration.

LANDRETH NINE WINS OVER NORTHERN LEGION

Last night at the Northern Legion Ball Park, 19th & Olney avenue, Philadelphia, Landreth's Seeds defeated the home club in a very tight and interesting game by a score of 4 to 1.

Northern Legion scored their only run in the third inning with two hits, a sacrifice and an error.

The "Farmers" scored in the fourth inning on Pitcoe's home run, a terrific drive over the head of the right fielder who was playing very deep. They always play that way for Al. In the fifth inning the "Farmers" scored, again when Broderick singled, advanced to second on Ashby's out and scored on Roe's long single to left.

Joe being thrown out trying to stretch it into a double. In the last inning the "Farmers" put together two runs by some hefty hitting. Hibbs hit to right, advanced to second on Broderick's hit and scored on Roe's triple to left. Joe scored a minute later on Malmbsbury's hit to center.

Ashby was in great form, only being in trouble in the third inning. He struck out eight batters and allowed only five hits. The "Farmers" only made ten hits but they came at the right time. Roe made a wonderful catch of a pop-fly on the first base line and his hitting was the feature of the game, together with Pitcoe's homer.

The Legion has a very fine Club this year, as testified by their defeat of Kensington Wednesday evening 2 to 1. A big, enthusiastic crowd watched the game and they want the "Farmers" to return later in the season.

Sunday Landreth's Seeds will play the Pensauken Club from New Jersey, a team which comes highly recommended.

HARMAN EXPECTS TO HAVE A WINNING TEAM

By Matthew Oates
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28—(INS)—With the entire 1935 varsity backfield returning, Harvey Harman, head football coach at the University of Pennsylvania, expects to have a "winner."

Now that he has been given complete charge of his eleven's training—which in previous years was under the direction of Lawson Robertson, noted Penn track and field coach—Harman is convinced that his sixth season as head coach will prove a highly successful one for Penn's gridiron machine.

The veteran grid mentor is not disturbed by the fact the men on whom he is counting this season failed to "come through" last year. Many members of his '36 machine will be the same ones who, at times, were their opponents' "doormats" in '35. In fact, the team was so disappointing that Harman was almost ousted because of Alumni dissatisfaction.

Fifty-three candidates have been invited to report for physical examinations prior to leaving for camp on September 14. The increase in the number of prospects is due to the loss of 16 lettermen through graduation and the improvement shown by the added candidates during spring practice.

The practice grind will begin September 15 and will continue until September 26 at the team's camp, Wyomissing, Minisink Hills in the Pocono Mountains.

Included in the list of eligibles are sixteen varsity lettermen from last season's team; eighteen members of the freshman team of last year and nineteen others who were either on the junior varsity squad or who were on the varsity and did not receive their letter last year.

Franny Murray, sensational find in 1934 and regular quarterback in 1935, was injured in a mishap early in the summer but was in perfect shape for a physical examination.

Lew Elverson, Toms River, N. J., left halfback; Ed Warwick, Trenton, N. J., right halfback, and Bill Kurlish, Crum Lynne, Pa., make up the backfield.

Among the other players expected to gain regular berths with the Red and Blue are: Elliott Wexler, Mass.; Bob Dougherty, Philadelphia; Bill Kirkleski, Nutley, N. J., and Clarence Bartholomew, Allentown.

Robert McNamara, New York, will probably take one of the guard positions. Jimmy Hauze, Allentown, Pa., center on last year's team, will return to that position with William O'Neill, Philadelphia, as his understudy.

The two ends are expected to be Alvin Nye, of Chevy Chase, Md., and Robert Schuenemann, Philadelphia.

With an experienced set of backfield men on which to rely, Harman expected to devote the major portion of his time at the training camp to the development of linemen.

Exchange Club Hears Talk On Bee Culture

of inclement weather, but most of the activities took place on the lawn.

The Rev. James J. Bingham, Philadelphia, former president of the local club, and also a former pastor of the M. E. Church, here, was the guest of honor. He gave a short talk as did Dr. Fox, and Warren P. Snyder.

The featured address of the evening was given by Lester Stackhouse, Edgely, who talked on "The Life of Bees." Mr. Stackhouse has a number of bees which he raises as a hobby. He illustrated his talk with a number of bees, cones and honey.

Mr. Stackhouse gave a short history of the life of the bee from the time it is captured from its native haunts. He pointed out that the problem of raising bees is a most abstruse one, and in many instances the workers will not accept the queen bee.

The honey produced in this section of the country was compared by Mr. Stackhouse to that produced in Florida, Alabama and Mississippi. The speaker stated that often the honey produced in these southern climes is not as good. Clover and buckwheat make better honey than the orange blossoms. In some cases this latter honey, Mr. Stackhouse said, looks almost as dark as molasses.

"The average hive contains 50,000 to 100,000 bees," the speaker asserted, and "around here the cruising area is about four miles while the bees have been known to cruise as far as eight miles."

Other experiences of the speaker were passed on to the group. He told of an exhibition of some 20 tons of honey that he had witnessed in Florida. He also pointed out one of the most interesting developments in the production of honey. This is the production of a stingless bee. The new bee is said to be the work of a former Russian noble now residing in Jersey. Although this type of bee will not sting, as was illustrated recently when several hundred were dropped on the bare shoulders of a girl, Mr. Stackhouse believes that these bees still have the power to sting, but they have been so trained, and have become so docile, that they will not sting.

The transportation of the queen bee from one section of the country to another and from foreign points is an interesting procedure, according to Mr. Stackhouse. The queen is packed in a small box with five or six workers and a small amount of sugar is placed in the container and then the bees are shipped through the mails. Those going to foreign destinations are shipped via air mail.

The films that were shown last evening included one travel picture of a trip by airplane over the English Channel from London to Paris. Another revealed the beauties of a western section of the United States. These pictures, in technicolor, were taken by Edward Lynn, Jr. They described a recent trip that this Bristol man made to San Francisco. Following this presentation there were shown comedies under the direction of Edward Lynn, manager of the Grand Theatre.

Winners in the rolling pin throwing contest included: Mrs. Paul Forster, Mrs. William, Mrs. George Irwin, Mrs. William Arensmeyer, and Miss Dorothy Willaman. The target was a stuffed dummy representing a human and the target was sadly mutilated before the contestants were finished.

Winners in the archery contest included: Paul Forster, Edwin Hey, Asa Fabian, George Irwin, Doron Green and William Arensmeyer. The target for this event was the same dummy used by the women in the rolling pin contest.

Declares Main Plans Of New Deal Mean Ruin

initiative in fear, and fostered monopoly, although now making a "pious repudiation" and "dashing out to fight windmills."

"It put the little fellows in jail, but big business wrote its own ticket," he asserted.

"New mercenaries is right," he said. "There are 250,000 new ones right now, and civil service is not the basis of their selection."

As for the "royalists" use of the corporation, Knox said the Administration itself used Delaware corporations to do "strange and un-American things," and added:

"These are strange words from a man who all his business life has been associated with corporate enterprise."

There are "a few giant corporations" in the country, Knox continued, but he asserted that great size is not necessarily an advantage.

"Preserve free enterprise," he said, "and the little fellow will make the big fellow behave. Very frequently he will cut the big fellow down."

"The only economic royalist that scares the small manufacturer is located in Washington, D. C."

Henry Ford came in for the candidate's praise as Knox said the super-corporations survive only if useful.

"Contrast Henry Ford with the present Administration, the one adding untold value to American life, promoting enterprise, employing labor, raising the standard of living; the other destroying food, wasting the Nation's assets, increasing the cost of living," he declared.

Asserting the Administration's plans were vague, with "nothing left of the recovery program but the annual suggestion for a belt of trees," Knox said:

"Is there a man here who knows what the currency plans are? . . . They are planning to put 10 billion gold dollars in a hole in Kentucky to prevent foreign foes or the Republicans or the holders of gold bonds or some other evil persons from getting it. Beyond the hole in Kentucky, there is no plan."

He said that despite the decisions "in defense of free enterprise" by the Supreme Court, "business is still afraid. It knows that breathing-spells are only breathing-spells. It knows that promises are mere scraps of paper."

In closing, the campaigning candidate asked his audience:

"Do you want . . . economic vivisection for another four years or do you want . . . a new Administration that will give the American people a government of simplicity, economy and certainty? You will have such an Administration under Alf M. Landon."
